

REAL ID Act Extension Expires Soon

Starting Jan. 30, the 45th Space Wing and other federal agencies will no longer accept driver's licenses and/or state ID cards from Washington, Montana, Minnesota, Missouri or Maine when trying to obtain an installation access credential such as Defense Biometric Identification System (DBIDS) card/passes. This is part of the Real ID Act signed into Public Law (PL) as PL 109-13, 49 US Code section 30301, and Coded Federal Regulation (CFR) Title 6, part 37.

Department of Defense Common Access Cards, dependent and retiree IDs can still be used to enter Patrick AFB. Personnel who have a current installation entry DBIDS cards/pass can still use them until they expire.

Personnel from the listed non-compliant states, will have to show other documentation prior to obtaining a 45th SW DBIDS card/pass. Once non-compliant states satisfy the REAL ID Act's requirements or receive an extension, supplemental documentation will no longer be needed. For the most current information or to see if the state of your issued ID changes from non-compliant to compliant, please refer to the Homeland Security site: <https://www.dhs.gov/current-status-states-territories>.

What is REAL ID Act?

Passed by Congress in 2005, the REAL ID Act enacted the 9/11 Commission's recommendation that the Federal Government "set standards for the issuance of sources of identification, such as driver's licenses." The Act established minimum security standards for state-issued driver's licenses and identification cards and prohibits Federal agencies from accepting for official purposes licenses and identification cards from states that do not meet these standards. States have made considerable progress in meeting this key recommendation of the 9/11 Commission and every state has a more secure driver's license today than before the passage of the Act.
